

A new dimension of inventory

Highest data quality in the shortest time

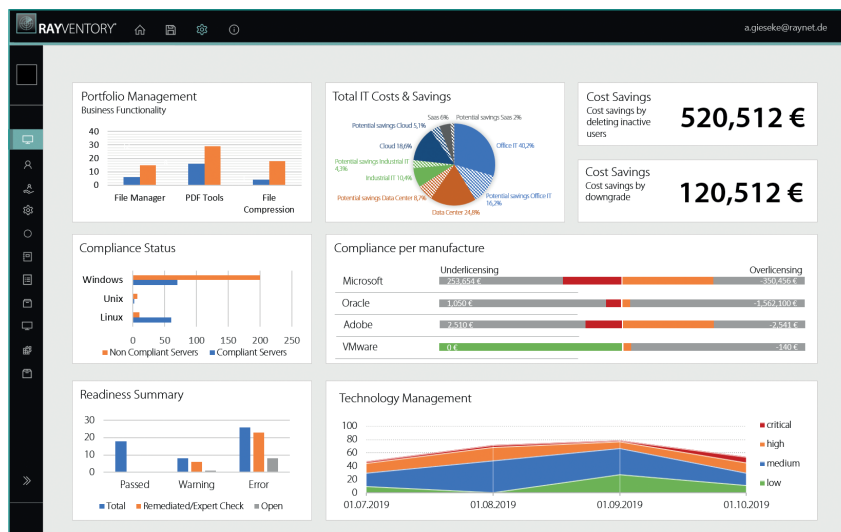

Data collection, preparation, visualization and Dependency Mapping

RayVentry is an end-to-end inventory solution, that delivers the highest data quality for clients, servers and network devices in the shortest time with a unique flexibility and automation capability. The ability to utilise various data sources enables information to be enriched and linked in a meaningful way.

The logical combination and preparation of key performance indicators allow stakeholders to easily understand what actions need to be taken.

Your benefits

- Transparency of the IT infrastructure
- Quality assured hardware and software inventory of clients, servers and network devices
- Usage of existing data sources
- Reliable and prepared data for management
- Identify and reduce compliance risks
- Increase of IT security
- Vulnerability Management

Provision of reliable information with key figures for:

Merge different data sources

Discovery & Inventory

Data Management

Visualization & Dependency Mapping